FOR KILLING YOUNG GIRL

Three Young Men Of Paterson, New Jersey, Are Now On Trial.

PENALTY IS DEATH

And the State Is Not Compelled Under the Statute to Establish Intent To Murder.

PATERSON, N. J., Jan. 14.—Walter C. McAllister, Andrew J. Campbell and William A. Death were placed on trial today for the murder of Jennie Bosschiet, the young mill girl, on October 19, last. Judge Dixon presided at the trial, which began at ten o'clock this morning.

Prosecutor Emley, in opening, insisted that the men were guilty of murder in the first degree, the penalty for which is death. It is not necessary for the state to prove that a murder was intended. New Jersey law holds that death caused in pursuit of a felony is murder in the first degree.

The two most important witnesses for the state will be August H. Schuthorpe, the hackman who drove the unconscious girl from Saal's saloon on the night of her death, to the lonely spot off the Goffle road two miles north of Paterson, where she was attacked, and Prof. Witthaus an expert chemist. Dr. S. Cyrus Townsend, who was aroused early on the morning of October 19 by the young men in a hack, and found that their girl companion was dead, will also be an important witness for the state.

Owing to the intense public interest in the murder of the young girl, elaborate precautions have been taken to prevent scenes of disorder about the court house.

SOCIETY AGOG OVER THE VANDERBILT-FRENCH WEDDING, WITH ITS DISPLAY OF WEALTH.

NEWPORT, Jan. 14.—Intense social excitement prevails today over the Alfred Vanderbilt-Elsie French wedding. The weather is good.

The presents were exposed this morning for the first time, with a squad of detectives to guard them. The wide world seems to have been secured for the enormously rich novelties. The pearls, diamonds, and the precious stones alone reach the value of half a million dollars.

Miss French's wedding gown will be remarkable for its magnificence and simplicity. The entire costume is of rich ivory-white satin. The skirt, with its train three yards long, is a model of graceful and symmetrical lines. Its effect is to make the bride appear much taller than she really is.

The entire front of the gown, from neck to feet, is a single piece of round point lace of priceless value.

THE CHINESE ENVOYS ARE AGAIN AUTHORIZED TO SIGN THE NOTE OF THE POWERS.

PEKIN, Jan. 14.—Instructions to Li Hung Chang and Prince Ching to sign the preliminary note of the powers came in the shape of a telegraphic edict, which was practically a duplicate of the first edict received some time ago ordering the Chinese peace commissioners to attach their signatures to the note, but which the dowager empress sought to render void by another edict ordering her representatives to withhold their signatures.

CHEROKEE NATION TRYING TO SECURE LAND FOR NEW HOMES IN SONORA.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 14.—Negotiations are about to be entered upon between representatives of the Cherokee nation and the governor of the state of Sonora, old Mexico, whereby a large tract of land will be transferred to the Cherokees for their use and occupancy.

If the deal goes through the Cherokee Indians, the more progressive of all, will depart from the United States

TURNEY WILL GO TO WASHINGTON TO HELP A LONG THE DAM.

An Effort Will Be Made, by Direction of the Chamber of Commerce, to Effect a Compromise Acceptable to All Parties.

The chamber of commerce committee on irrigation met yesterday morning to outline a plan of procedure with regard to the international dam bills now before congress. The result of the meeting was an agreement to request Senator Turney to go to Washington at once, with instructions to agree to such compromise as may be necessary to secure legislation providing for the construction of the dam.

The board of directors of the chamber of commerce also met yesterday to receive the report from the irrigation committee as above. The board approved the recommendation of the committee and instructed Secretary Russell to wire Senator Turney at Austin and Senator Culberson at Washington of the decision of the chamber.

Secretary Russell received a telegram this morning from Senator Turney, stating that he would start for Washington tonight if necessary, but that he desired to wait until the last of this week. He asked that data and instructions be forwarded to him at Washington in care of Senator Culberson.

The Quarantine.

The board of directors also discussed the quarantine matter at some length. The fact was brought out and discussed that the quarantine station is not fixed at the state line, but at a point within the city of El Paso about a mile west of the heart of the city; that is to say, these bubonic plague subjects, with all the alleged possibilities of infection, are brought two or three miles within the state through the settlement of Towne at the smelter, with its 3,000 population and kept within the city limits until they can be sent back beyond the borders of the state. Since the quarantine authorities display no consideration for the interests or wishes of the people of El Paso in this matter, the board resolved to give the quarantine authorities a little of their own medicine. A resolution was therefore passed requesting the board of health to quarantine against the bubonic plague inspectors and prevent them from going back and forth from their homes in the city to the quarantine station.

FIERCE BATTLE BETWEEN AN OFFICER AND A GANG OF SIX BANK ROBBERS.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Jan. 14.—Officer Charles W. Goss of the city police force surprised a gang of men attempting to rob the Norman savings bank at an early hour this morning. He engaged in a singlehanded battle with three of the men, who were already in the bank, and one acting as sentinel on the corner.

Goss is sure he hit two as they came out of the bank door. He emptied his revolver from a vantage point behind the shadow of a telegraph pole.

All five men shot in his direction a number of times. Five bullet marks were left in the pole.

The gang ran down Baltimore street, and made their escape out the West Virginia Central railroad track, terrorizing the few persons they met on the way by indiscriminate firing.

They numbered six persons fully armed.

CERRILLOS COAL RAILROAD TO BE SOLD OUT UNDER A MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE.

Special Dispatch to The Herald.

SANTA FE, N. M., Jan. 14.—In the district court for this county this forenoon Judge McFie signed a decree and order of the sale for the property of the Cerrillos Coal Railroad company to satisfy a mortgage of $802,353.64 held by Walter E. Hodge.

The decree orders that no bid under $450,000 should be considered.

The railroad is a branch of the Santa Fe railroad in this country and owns valuable coal mines in the southern part of the country.

JUDGE TOD OF HOUSTON TO BE THE NEW SECRETARY OF STATE FOR TEXAS.

Special Dispatch to The Herald.

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 14.—The governor this morning named Judge John G. Tod, of Houston, to succeed D. H. Hardy as secretary of state at the expiration of the latter's term.

JOBAILEY OF TEXAS

Is Making His Plans to Organize A Gigantic Cattle Syndicate.

TO CONTROL TRADE

With Cuba, and He Has Already Got A Strong Foothold In the Island.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 14.—Congressman Bailey of Texas is organizing a syndicate to control the cattle trade of Cuba. The recent visit of the Texas statesman to Havana was for this purpose.

He has already secured an option in some leading cattle dealing firms in the island.

THE GOVERNOR OF ILLINOIS FOLLOWS THE FOOTSTEPS OF HIS FATHER.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 14.—Richard Yates, is governor. He took the oath of office at noon today, succeeding Tanner as chief executive of the state of Illinois.

He has followed in the political footsteps of his father at a distance of 40 years. On January 14, 1860, the first Richard Yates came from Jacksonville, Morgan county, to take the highest office in the gift of the people of Illinois.

The occasion however was the presence of Mrs. Catherine Yates, mother of the new governor. She witnessed the inauguration 40 years ago as she witnessed it today.

Then she was the wife of a brilliant young man who became distinguished as the war governor of Illinois. Today she witnessed the induction into the same high office of her son.

The ceremonies attending the inauguration were brilliant.

THE WEATHER MAN

SAYS THAT GOOD WEATHER IS MORE THAN LIKELY.

Carnival Week Is Here, and in a Day or Two the Enormous Crowds Will Be Coming In.

This is Carnival week! The big show opens at noon Wednesday and the coronation of the queen takes place Wednesday night. Thousands will witness the grand spectacle in which the queenliest young women are to be the center of attraction.

The out of door program is elaborate and it is while basking in the rays of the warm January sun and participating in the street pastimes that the visitor from the icy north will find the greatest enjoyment.

From the land of lowering clouds and biting winds they will come by the thousands to the land of eternal summer.

Citizens of El Paso have done their full duty. No other organization here ever displayed half the energy, the harmony or the executive ability of the Carnival association. Its executive committee have done their work well and now it's up to the weatherman.

Without consulting the weatherman Carnival promoters promised El Paso's visitors "Sunshine in January." Now the question is will W. D. Lane, local observer in the dome of the custom house at this place so manipulate matters as to secure sunshine and plenty of it during the present week?

He has already half committed himself, but like the El Paso politician he is wary and it is hard to nail him down to an absolute promise.

What he has said is this: "I have every reason to believe that we will have ideal weather during the Carnival. So far there have been no unfavorable indications that would lead me to think otherwise."

J. S. Eldridge, who took such a lively interest in the election of the Carnival queen, came in from Mexico last night.

CARNIVAL MASCOTS

Four Little Boys Run Away From Home At Temple, Texas.

TO SEE THE SHOW

And El Paso Will See That They Want For Nothing While they Are In The City.

The four little boys who ran away from home and beat their way over 700 miles of railroad on freight trains in order to see the sights of the Carnival, have been taken in hand by the Carnival committee and will be made the mascots of the big show.

They have been placed in comfortable quarters at the Hotel Spencer and given a new outfit of clothing throughout by the Carnival association. Mrs. Spencer is treating them with motherly kindness.

Yesterday morning O. W. Ballard, of the firm of Jarrell, Ballard & Co., took them out to the smelter, and Doc Ward of the Albers pharmacy paid their way to the bull fight yesterday afternoon. They are delighted with the treatment they are receiving, but are leary of the press. They say they do not like newspaper notoriety and would not talk to a newspaper man regarding their escapade.

It is the intention of the Carnival association to give them special attention and pay them well for their trip to see the Carnival by showing it to them in the fullest extent. It has not been definitely decided just what honors will be bestowed upon them, but they will probably be given a separate float in the parade or placed in a special booth by the street side from which they can view the parade. They will probably be designated by banners upon which a short story of their adventures will be inscribed.

They have honored the Carnival by running away from home and undergoing the hardships of a tramp's life in order to attend the Carnival and their honors will be returned as best the committee knows how. After they have been shown all the sights and having honors bestowed upon them on every hand, they will be given tickets for their home return trip and instead of riding in the ice box of a refrigerator car as they did when coming, they will return as first class passengers.

The boys are John Jackson, aged 16, son of a railroad machinist, Billy Hobbs, aged 15, son of an ex-sheriff, Willie Baker, aged 14, son of a saloon man, and Bert Haller, aged 13, son of a railroad conductor. They are all small for their ages and the Jackson boy is especially so. He is the oldest of the small quartette but is the smallest. One of the boys explained the situation thus, "You see that scar on Johnny's head. A horse kicked him there and stunted his growth." But Johnny said it was not so, for he was small to his age before the horse kicked him.

The boys say they started with a treasury containing $8 and this provided them with something to eat until they arrived in El Paso, then they went broke. They all look intelligent, and in the new suits, selected for them by Mrs. Spencer, they look very neat. They say they appreciate the kindness shown them in El Paso and assure those who are treating them kindly that it will be no inducement for them to run away again, for they have learned a lesson that they will never forget.

NEELY, THE CUBAN POSTOFFICE SWINDLER MUST RETURN THERE FOR TRIAL.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 14.—The supreme court has decided that Neely, the postoffice swindler, must return to Cuba for trial.

OVER FOUR HUNDRED JAPANESE FISHERMEN PERISHED IN GREAT STORM.

YOKOHAMA, Jan. 14.—Over 400 fishermen perished in a storm off the west coast last week.

KILLED BY A TRAIN

AN AGED MEXICAN FULLY MANGLED AT CROSSING His Foot Caught, and the Engine Crushed Him Before He Could Free Himself.—He Said the Engineer Made No Signal.

Pablo Regalado, a Mexican 52 years of age, was killed this morning by a White Oaks engine near the Stanton street guard house. Regalado was crossing the track when his foot became fastened in the rails and while trying to free himself he was run over and his legs and arms were badly mangled.

The injured man lived about two and a half hours after the accident and made the following statement to the priest: "I was crossing the track when my left foot got caught between the rails and while I was trying to free myself I was run over. The engineer did not ring his bell nor blow the whistle and I did not know that they were coming until it was too late to flag them."

There were several eye witnesses to the affair. Justice A. W. Spencer held an inquest over the remains and his verdict was substantially as stated above.

The deceased leaves a wife and six children in needy circumstances.

THE NATIONAL BUILDING TRADES COUNCIL IN ANNUAL SESSION AT CINCINNATI.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 14.—The fourth annual convention of the National Building Trades Council began here today and will continue during the week.

There are 300 delegates present representing an affiliated membership of over 100,000.

One of the principal subjects is that of federation of all unions in the building industry with a view to sympathetic as well as cooperative action. A uniform scale of wages will be considered, as well as working hours and a system of arbitration.

A BEAUMONT OIL MILL WITH A FLOW OF THIRTY THOUSAND GALLONS DAILY.

Special Dispatch to The Herald.

HOUSTON, Texas, Jan. 14.—That oil well at Beaumont is throwing between fifteen and thirty thousand gallons daily.

THE TEXAS STATE FEDERATION OF LABOR IS NOW IN SESSION AT SAN ANTONIO.

Special Dispatch to The Herald.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Jan. 14.—The state federation of labor, composed of 25 delegates, assembled here this morning.

GOVERNOR AHUMADA AND GENERAL HERNANDEZ COMING.

Both of them Will Bring Their Military Bands, and There Will Be Joy as a Consequence.

The Carnival association received a telegram today from Governor Ahumada of Chihuahua, stating that he would attend the Carnival and bring his celebrated band. He also wired Mayor Onate of Juarez that he would be here.

General Hernandez also wired that he would be here with his band and would bring his family.

Don Francisco Diaz, a prominent politician of Chihuahua, is now in El Paso and will remain here during the big show. He has many times been offered the position of mayor of Chihuahua but has refused as his private interests take up most of his time. He says he talked with both Governor Ahumada and General Hernandez and they are anticipating an enjoyable trip to the border metropolis.

NEXT MONTH THE TEXAS LIVE STOCK ASSOCIATION.

The tenth annual meeting of the Texas Live Stock association will be held at Ft. Worth, Tex., February 12th and 13th, 1901. The attendance has been increasing from year to year and the next meeting, it is hoped, will be more largely attended than any other meeting of the association, because this is the first time this association has held a meeting in north Texas.

This meeting of the association will be of special importance because of the fact that the legislature is now in session and several important matters of interest to the live stock industry of the state will be discussed before the convention and action taken with a view of having these measures enacted into law.

PROMINENT CATTLE MAN

The Largest Owner Of Registered Herefords in the World.

TO MAKE THIS CITY

A Main Market for Fine Stock, and a Herd Will Be Kept Here at All Times.

William Humphrey, vice president and principal owner of the Riverside Hereford cattle ranch at Ashland, Nebraska, who is in El Paso to attend the Carnival, is the largest owner of thoroughbred cattle in the world. He has been in the business since he was a child and has devoted his entire life to the breeding and improving of Hereford cattle which are now acknowledged to be the best range cattle in the world.

Mr. Humphrey began the cattle business in Missouri many years ago. There he had a small herd of Herefords which made a reputation in the markets and in a few years made him a wealthy man. Desiring to increase his business he went to Nebraska and bought the Riverside farm, which even then was known as one of the best cattle farms in the country. He increased the ranch to 5,000 acres and has added to it every month until now he owns the largest fine stock ranch with the largest herd of thoroughbred Hereford cattle in the entire world. Mr. Humphrey is a practical man and has managed his business to make his herd grow instead of diminish by sales as has been the case with many other stock farms.

After buying the Riverside farm in Nebraska, Mr. Humphrey bought small herds over the country until he now has almost complete control of the Hereford business. He has increased his herd by buying every bunch of Herefords that have been put on the market and is still buying whenever he can find full blooded cattle for sale. He first bought the Redhead herd at Des Moines, Iowa, then the Garrett herd at Clearmont, Mo., the Cook herd at Ode Bolt, Iowa, the Scroggins herd at Harriestown, Ill., the Shadeland herd in Indiana, the Shadeland herd of Indiana, being his last purchase. The Shadeland herd was founded by the late Adam Earl of Shadeland, one of the great nurseries of Hereford blood of the world. It was based on Lord Wilton blood. Along with the Wilton blood was combined that of Colorado Sir Richard 2nd and Horace, the latter through Garfield and The Grove 3rd. In pursuance of the ambitions of Mr. Humphrey to make the Riverside herd as notable for its quality as for its numbers, the purchase of the Shadeland herd was negotiated.

His ranch now has over 2,000 thoroughbred Herefords after the enormous sales he has made during the past year. The value of the cattle alone on the Riverside farm is a little over $500,000. During the year just ended the company sold over $200,000 worth of cattle the average price per head being $240.

Mr. Humphrey has brought 70 head of these cattle to El Paso for sale and will have them on exhibition here during the Carnival. The average price of the cattle he has here is $250, the herd being worth about $20,000.

"These cattle were not brought here for exhibition," said Mr. Humphrey, "for I did not know that there would be an exhibit. They are brought here for sale and are only an average of the Riverside herd. We propose keeping a herd here regularly to supply our trade in this section and will soon have a large ranch near here. The principal ranchmen in Mexico are now seeing the advantage in pure bred cattle and the demand for Herefords in that country will be great in the future. The object of keeping a herd here is to allow the cattlemen in Mexico to see them more often and not have to visit the ranch in Nebraska."

Mr. Humphrey is well pleased with his prospects for business in Mexico and will help to make El Paso one of the best markets in the country.
